VIRG NIA.

CHARLOTTESBURG, VA., Nov. 8.—Returns pouring in upon the State committee here leave no doubt that Virginia has gone Democratic by probably 10,000.

From every point in the State the indications point the same way. This town, for example, gives Cleveland 563 majority, a gain of 326 over 1888. Albemarle county gives Cleveland a majority of 1,700, an increase of 1,500. Roanoke City gives 900 Democratic majority, a Democratic gain of 123, and Roanoke county gives 300 Democratic majority, a Democratic gain of 687. From other parts of the State like results are reported.

The congressional delegation will be solidly Democratic, as follows: First—W. A. Jones (re-elected). Second—D. Gardner Tyler. Third—George D. Wise (re-elected). Fourth—James F. Epps (re-elected). Fifth—Paul C. Edmunds (re-elected). Sixth—Charles T. O'Ferrall (re-elected). Eighth—E. E. Meredith (re-elected). Ninth—James W. Marshall. Tenth—H. St. George Tucker (re-elected).

The delegation in the present House is solidly Democratic, but determined efforts were made to break in upon it by fusion with the Third party in almost every district. Republican divisions, however, made these efforts ineffectual.

PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 8.—One of the most quiet elections ever held in Petersburg was that here to-day, and no serious disturbances occurred at any of the voting places. The weather was Indian summer like, and a large vote was polled. A noticeable feature of today's election here was the large number of colored men who voted the Democratic ticket. They not only voted the ticket, but they acted as ticket holders at the polls. There were four tickets in the field, namely: Democratic, Republican, People's party and Prohibition. The candidates on the latter ticket were: John Biwell, of California, for President, and James B. Cranfill, of Texas, for Vice-President. Very few of these tickets were voted. Many of the Republicans, while they voted for Harrison and Reid, scratched Goode, Third party candidate for Congress from this district, which was on the tail end of the Republican ticket. Petersburg gave Cleveland 2,500 votes and Harrison, 1,946. Epps, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth district, received 2,355 votes and Goode, 1,323.

This is the first time that Petersburg has a Democratic majority on a presidential election since the war, and the Democrats are highly jubilant over the great victory they have achieved. It is believed that Epps is elected, as it is not thought that Goode can overcome the majority. Epps has gotten here in Petersburg. The returns are being displayed by means of a stereopticon in front of the Index-Appel newspaper office, and there are fully 2,000 people on the street to-night reading the returns and cheering themselves hoarse.

THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES.

The Results of the Election Yesterday the Country Over.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—At the election in this State to-day the voting was for presidential electors, thirty-four congressmen and an Assembly which will, with the Senate elected last year, name the successor to United States Senator Frank Hiscok. There were three proposed amendments to the State Constitution of local interest voted for, and Charles Andrews, the nominee of both Republicans and Democrats, was elected chief judge of the court of appeals.

Contrary to the general expectation, the number of votes cast in this city fell considerably below the estimates made by the election expert mathematicians.

As early as 6 o'clock the Democratic managers admitted that the falling off amounted to over seven per cent, compared with the vote of four years ago.
